

The background is a vibrant space scene. At the top center, a large yellow comet with a red nucleus streaks across the sky. Four astronauts in white suits with red backpacks are positioned around the perimeter: one in the top left floating, one in the top right sitting and reading a red book, one in the bottom left holding a large orange pencil, and one in the bottom right holding a yellow diamond-shaped object. The central area features a large, faint image of Earth with white orbital lines. To the left is a blue and green planet, and to the right is an orange planet with yellow spots. At the bottom center is a purple planet with a blue and orange ring. The entire scene is set against a dark purple space with white stars and a large, faint spiral galaxy in the background.
