Hi, I'm Robert. I'm acting in my school play. I want to be an <sup>1</sup> actor when I'm older. My <sup>2</sup>                    is named Jake Turnbull. He's a P.E. teacher. I'm wearing a <sup>3</sup>                    that is a tracksuit and sneakers. Before I go on stage, I put <sup>4</sup>                    on my face. It helps me look older because my character is an adult, but I'm only eleven years old!

I have read the <sup>5</sup>                    many times, but I always read it again just before I go on stage. When I walk on to the <sup>6</sup>                   , the lights are off and the curtain is down. Then the <sup>7</sup>                    goes up, and I can see the <sup>8</sup>                   . Everyone is watching me! Then the <sup>9</sup>                    go on and I start talking. It's really fun!
