6 Read the article and choose the correct answer.

Living in the sky

Esteban lives in El Alto, Bolivia

When people think of South America, they usually think of a very hot climate, with high temperatures and lots of sunshine. This is true in some places in the north, like Columbia and Ecuador, but it's very different in my city, El Alto, in Bolivia. It's a large city – about 1.18 million people live here. But what's very strange about it is that it's very high up – over 4,000 metres above sea level! It is the only city in the world at this height. In comparison, the capital city of Bolivia, La Paz, is over 3,500 metres. Because it's high up in the mountains, it has a cold climate and this means in winter the minimum temperature is -4 degrees Celsius. This feels freezing to me! And in summer the temperatures rise to a maximum of 17 degrees. Also, it can snow at any time of the year, even in summer!

There lots of awesome things to do in my country. Last weekend I went to a huge street market in La Paz. There they they sell lots of nice food and other things like clothes. While I was looking around, I saw an old book about the history of my city, so I bought it. Last month we went on a school trip to Moon Valley – a really beautiful area in the mountains near here. While we were enjoying the view we discovered some unusual plants there, too. And at night we watched the stars. We could see hundreds of them there because the sky is clear at night.

El Alto has a problem, though. Last week at school we were learning about climate change, and we learnt that because temperatures are rising around the world, and sometimes there are droughts here, we need to save all the water that we can on rainy days. I hope the situation improves in the future because I love my city!

b is different from the countries next to it.
c is always warm and sunny.
- 1 El Alto is
a the capital city of Bolivia.
b over four thousand metres high.
c a small city.

- 2 In El Alto, the summers are usually a mild.
b windy.
c stormy.
- 3 At the market, Esteban got something to a eat.
b wear.
c read.
- 4 In Moon Valley there are a strange flowers.
b old books.
c no stars.
- 5 Which of these is an opinion, not a fact?
a The sky is clear at night.
b Moon Valley is a really beautiful area.
c Temperatures are rising around the world.
