It all began one Sunday afternoon when Karen's mother, Diane, was preparing the evening meal in the kitchen, and her husband, Bob, (A1) ... in the back garden. Diane thought that Karen was with Bob and Bob thought that she was with her. Then they noticed that Karen (A2) Neighbours and friends began to search for the girl, and her worried parents called the police. Meanwhile, Karen followed the neighbour's dog through the dog-flap in the front door. She knew the house well, so she (A3) ... on the TV and settled down to watch the children's cartoons. Back at Karen's house, her desperate parents searched outside for an hour and a half, and (A4) ... by the police and concerned neighbours. Police dogs and a helicopter (A5) ... to be used. When the owners of the house eventually wandered into the living room they were astonished to see the girl there. What a relief it was for Diane and Bob to find Karen safe and well after all their worry. Diane said, 'Karen (A6) ... that dog and obviously wanted to play with it. We (A7) ... an eye on her in future.' What a day!
