

TRAVEL & HOLIDAYS

IELTS Speaking Part 1 – Short-Answer Questions

1 Why do people enjoy travelling to other countries?

comfort zones

cultural differences

informal education

personal values

I think travel appeals to people because it offers a refreshing change of scenery and a genuine chance to step outside their (1)_____ . For many, it's not just about sightseeing — it's about broadening one's perspective, understanding (2)_____ , and sometimes even re-evaluating (3)_____ . Travel, in a sense, becomes a form of (4)_____ that no classroom can provide.

2 Do you think travelling abroad is better than travelling domestically?

deeper connection

expands your horizons

gain exposure to

in your roots

Not necessarily. International travel can be a great way to (5)_____ new lifestyles and worldviews, but domestic trips often provide a (6)_____ with one's own heritage and identity. Personally, I believe both kinds of travel serve different purposes — one (7)_____ outward, while the other grounds you (8)_____ .

3 How has technology changed the way people travel?

accessible and efficient

accommodation and reviews

digital navigation tools

spontaneity and mystery

Technology has completely transformed the travel experience. Nowadays, we rely on (9)_____ , instant translation apps, and online platforms for (10)_____ . This convenience has made travel more (11)_____ , though some might argue it has taken away the sense of (12)_____ that used to define adventure.

4 Do you think travel will change in the future?

cultural authenticity

environmental awareness

mindful tourism

personal growth

Absolutely. I think we'll see a shift towards sustainable and (13)_____ , where travellers prioritize eco-friendly transport, local experiences, and (14)_____ . With growing (15)_____ , mass tourism may give way to smaller, more meaningful journeys — ones focused on (16)_____ and environmental responsibility.

IELTS Speaking Part 2 – Cue Card:

DESCRIBE A HOLIDAY YOU HAVE HAD THAT WAS SUCCESSFUL.

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Ⓐ When the holiday took place
- Ⓑ Who you went with
- Ⓒ Why it was successful

absolute serenity

appreciation

culturally enriching

cultural immersion

life-changing trip

rejuvenating escape

stunning blend

unexpected discoveries

I'd like to talk about a (1) _____ I took to Kyoto, Japan, which was honestly a perfect example of a (2) _____ and emotionally rewarding holiday.

It was a solo journey I'd been dreaming about for years, and after months of saving and planning, it finally became a reality. What made it so meaningful was that it offered a rare opportunity for self-discovery and (3) _____ — something I had never truly experienced before.

I spent a week exploring a (4) _____ of ancient temples, peaceful gardens, and vibrant markets. Each day felt like a journey through history and tradition, and the Japanese people's kindness added so much warmth to the experience. The highlight for me was a quiet morning walk through the bamboo forest in Arashiyama — it was a moment of (5) _____ that made me feel completely present and alive.

What made the holiday truly successful was the perfect balance between structure and spontaneity. I had a rough plan, but I also left room for (6) _____. Looking back, it was a (7) _____ that broadened my horizons and deepened my (8) _____ for cultural diversity

change of scenery

fell into place

huge relief

laid-back vibe

right ingredients

short getaway

well-balanced mix

your batteries

I'm going to talk about a trip I took to Hoi An a couple of years ago, which turned out to be one of the most memorable and satisfying holidays I've ever had.

It was a (9) _____ with two close friends, and we went there right after finishing our university exams — so you can imagine, it felt like a (10) _____ after weeks of stress and sleepless nights. We just wanted a (11) _____ and a few days to completely switch off, and that's exactly what we got.

Hoi An was stunning — a perfect blend of history, culture, and relaxation. We spent our mornings cycling around the old town, afternoons by the beach, and evenings trying local dishes in little riverside restaurants. I think what made it so special was the (12) _____ of the place and the fact that everything just (13) _____ — good weather, great company, no hiccups at all.

Looking back, I'd say it was a (14) _____ of fun and peace, the kind of trip that recharges (15) _____ and leaves you feeling grateful. It wasn't extravagant or luxurious, but it had the (16) _____ for a truly successful holiday — simplicity, spontaneity, and a genuine sense of joy.

? IELTS Speaking Part 3 – Follow-Up Questions

Do you think people can learn something valuable from travelling to different places?

adaptability    diverse    eye-opening    globalized    transformative    well-rounded

Absolutely. Travelling, in my opinion, is one of the most effective forms of education. When you visit different places, you're exposed to (1) _____ cultures, lifestyles, and perspectives that no textbook could ever capture. You learn how people live, think, and solve problems in completely different ways, which can be incredibly (2) _____.

For instance, spending time in another country teaches you tolerance, flexibility, and empathy — qualities that are essential in today's (3) _____ world. Even small things, like navigating a new city or trying unfamiliar food, build a sense of independence and (4) _____.

So yes, travel can be more than just leisure — it can be a (5) _____ experience that shapes your worldview and makes you a more (6) _____ person.

How has social media influenced the way people travel?

aspirational    based on    double-edged sword    hidden gems
 immersing    perceive travel    true meaning    within seconds

That's a really interesting question. I'd say social media has completely transformed the way people plan, experience, and even (7) _____. These days, many people choose destinations (8) _____ what they see online — especially through influencers or travel bloggers. In a way, it's made travel more visual, more (9) _____, and sometimes a bit competitive, because people want to recreate those "picture-perfect" moments they see on Instagram.

On the positive side, social media has made information far more accessible. You can easily find (10) _____, local recommendations, or honest reviews (11) _____. However, there's also a downside: it can make travel feel superficial or performative, where people focus more on taking photos than actually (12) _____ themselves in the experience.

So overall, I think social media is a (13) _____ — it's an incredible source of inspiration, but it can also distort the (14) _____ of travel if people aren't mindful.
