Type 3 Conditionals

Jack missed the bus yesterday, so he was late for work.

If Jack hadn't missed the bus, he wouldn't have been late for work yesterday.

Type 3 conditionals express imaginary situations in the past; that is, they refer to past situations that did not happen.
They are formed as follows:

If - clause	Main clause
If + past perfect	→ would/could/might + + have + past participle

e.g. If she had called earlier, I would have told her about the meeting. (She didn't call earlier, so I didn't tell her about the meeting.)

PAST PERFECT

We form the past perfect simple with had and the past participle of the main verb.
We form questions by putting had before the subject.
We form negations by putting not after had.

Interrogative
