

Healthy Habits – Food and drinks

Having healthy habits is very important for your body and mind.

People who do exercise, like swimming, running, or sports, feel strong and good every day.

Eating good food is also important. It's better to eat more fruits, rice, and beans, and less meat. These foods help your body and give you energy.

Many people like pizza and cheese, but they should eat them only sometimes.

It's also good to drink water or juice. Soda is not good for your teeth or your health. Remember:

eating healthy food and doing exercise help you live a happy life!
