

ZERO CONDITIONAL

Match the items in column A with those in column B in order to make correct conditional sentences.

A	B
Wash woollen clothes in hot water.	They die.
Put food in the fridge.	It becomes ice.
Don't water plants.	It gets rusty.
Put water in the freezer.	They shrink.
Leave metal out in the rain.	It falls to the ground.
Drop something.	It stays fresh for longer.
Throw a pebble into the sea.	You get green.
Mix blue and yellow.	It sinks.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____

Rewrite these sentences using the zero conditional:

1. You go to town tomorrow and I look after the children.

2. Mary is late. I meet her at the bus station.

3. Bill is going to write me. I tell you all his news.

4. You go to the supermarket. You can buy some bread.

5. I wait for him watching TV. Peter get home at midnight.

6. She finishes her homework. She can't go out.

7. The weather is very bad this week. We are on our holidays.

8. You get your exam results. Then you can tell Mary.

9. You get home till after midnight. Your mother is very worried.

10. I pay you the money. I get the job.

Use your own ideas to complete these sentences.

1. I'm going to the concert if _____
2. If you don't hurry, _____

3. I don't want to go swimming if _____

4. If you go to bed early tonight, _____

5. Turn the television off if _____

5. Tina doesn't pass her exam if _____

7. If I have time, _____

3. We can go to the beach if _____

