WHAT A STORY

Stephen William Hawking, a well-known scientist from Oxford, studied physics at Oxford University. When he was 21 and was doing studies on the universe at Cambridge University, the doctors found he had a neuro motor problem. Later, his problem got worse but he wanted to finish his studies. He thought he was going to live only a few months because most people like him only live for 18 months after diagnosis. In 1985, he had an operation and lost his ability to speak. At first, he could talk by spelling words moving his eyes when someone showed him a letter. Now he can choose words from a Computer screen with a switch. In 1988, his first book, which was about the universe, was very popular, but many people did not finish it because it was difficult to understand. In 2005, he wrote a simple version called A brief History of Time. "Before I got ill, my life was boring," he says. But then he had dreams about giving something good to the world, so he began to improve his work and now we can understand the universe better. He says his success comes from the help of his wife and children, other people, and organizations. Now, Hawking works as a Lucasian Professor of mathematics at the University of Cambridge, a job that Newton also had in 1663.

SWIFT PIZZA AND SANDWICH HOUSE

Today we have the pleasure of showing you the best letter written by our customer Mark. He wins £25 for writing about us this week. He is so happy with the orders at Swift Pizza and Sandwich House that he wants to declare a holiday to celebrate his experience here: "Happy burgerday and Merry Sandwichmas to everyone!" he wrote.

Wenesday May 18, 2011.

One typical day I was too tired after working all day long to cook for myself, and I was very hungry. I really wanted something to eat, so I decided to find a burger.

I ordered a half-pound burger and a lamb and chicken sandwich. I also had some special requests about extra cheese and vegetables. Food arrived very fast (less than twenty minutes) and was hot and fresh. The burger was delicious, and left me wanting more- fortunately I had the sandwich left. It felt as if it was cut just a minute before I opened it - juicy, fresh, and great. Every single special request I made was completely satisfied, 100%!

And the best thing was that all of the above and some drinks cost me ONLY 10 dollars! If that doesn't say value for money, I don't know what it does. It certainly feels great to find new excellent food delivery companies for whenever you don't feel like cooking yourself. I recently had a sad experience with my usual take away restaurant, so I decided to change to something else - and on my first try I got what I wanted!

Order now from Swift Pizza and Sandwich House.

Mark

JAMES SALTER'S DAYS IN FILM

James Salter was a pilot in the United States Air Force. He abandoned the military profession in 1957 after the publication of his first novel, The Hunters. He is best known as a novelist, but during the sixties and seventies, he worked in film making. Salter made documentaries, wrote texts for films and even was the director of a film called Three, starring Charlotte Rampling and Sam Waterston.

In Passionale Falsehoods, which was adapted from Salter's book Burning the Days, published in The New Yorker in 1997, Salter tells the story of his life in film.

Salter's time in the film world is both good and bad. In Rome, he met directors and stars. In New York, he explored the city with Robert Redford and enjoyed being famous. Deborah Treisman, and Michael Agger have talked about Salter. Nick Paumgarten in The Last Book, describes Salter's opinion about his film career:

"Of sixteen texts for movies, only four were popular. There was money, attractive women, and entrance into rooms where there were stories more for the dinner table than for the page". Salter thought he was wasting his time.

Perhaps he wasted his time in a larger artistic way, but it still makes for attractive reading. The Last Book is available to everyone in online stores.
