Read the text below and answer the questions according to the text.

The Smith family has lived in this town for ten years now. Over the years, they have built a cozy home filled with warmth and laughter. They have planted various types of plants in their garden, which has become a vibrant space for family gatherings. Each weekend, they have spent quality time together, whether it's going to the park, enjoying picnics, or watching movies at home.

Their children, Jake and Emma, have learned many new things at school. Jake has won several awards in art competitions, showcasing his creativity and talent. Meanwhile, Emma has become a champion in math competitions, impressing everyone with her problem-solving skills. Both of them have made wonderful friends and have participated in various extracurricular activities, enriching their school experience.

Mrs. Smith has cooked a wide array of delicious dishes for the family, experimenting with recipes from different cultures. They have enjoyed family dinners where everyone shares stories about their day, creating a strong bond among them. Mr. Smith has taken the kids on weekend camping trips, where they have explored nature and learned valuable life skills.

Throughout these years, they have celebrated birthdays, anniversaries, and holidays together, creating cherished memories. They have also faced challenges, but each obstacle has brought them closer together. The Smith family has truly created a loving and supportive environment, and they look forward to many more adventures in the years to come.
