

Word blog: I can cook!

1 My photos Read Tom's cooking ideas and complete the words.

My ideas for a Mother's Day and a Father's Day surprise!

My mum loves cakes. I usually <sup>1a</sup> add chocolate to my Mother's Day cake because she loves very <sup>2s</sup> sweet cakes! I use a large <sup>3b</sup> spoon and a wooden <sup>4s</sup> spoon to <sup>5m</sup> mix all the ingredients. My chocolate cake needs thirty minutes to <sup>6b</sup> bake in the oven.

For Father's Day I usually make a fruit pie. My dad prefers the <sup>7s</sup> sweet taste of lemons, so I put lots of lemon juice in this pie. First, I <sup>8s</sup> slice some apples with a sharp <sup>9k</sup> knife. Then I <sup>10c</sup> core some bananas. My dad says my pie is <sup>11d</sup> delicious. He loves it!

2 My chatroom Complete the comments.

What can I cook for Mother's or Father's Day?

boil disgusting roast

ChefBob Try something different! <sup>1</sup> boil a duck in the oven and <sup>2</sup> chop some pumpkin in water. Don't worry! It isn't <sup>3</sup> disgusting.

chop peel slice lunchboxBill Make a super salad. <sup>4</sup> Chop some apples and <sup>5</sup> slice some carrots. You don't need to <sup>6</sup> peel the apples, but wash them well. Mix together for a great salad.

3 Get more Complete the dialogue with the words in the box.

look next over set starving

Nick: What's for lunch, Dad? I'm <sup>1</sup> starving!

Dad: I've put a pie in the oven. Is it ready?

Nick: Let's have a <sup>2</sup> look. Yes, I think so.

Dad: Great. Can you <sup>3</sup> set the table, please?

Nick: Oh no, Dad! Can we eat and watch TV? Please, please? There's a great basketball match on now!

Dad: Well, OK. Let's put the small table <sup>4</sup> over there, in front of the TV.

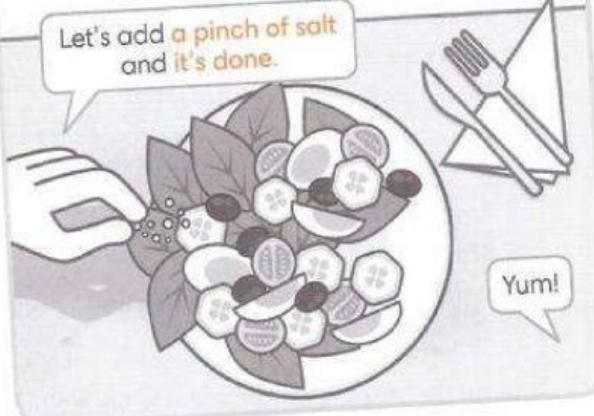

Nick: Cool!

20 minutes later ...

Nick: That was a great pie! What's <sup>5</sup> next? I'm still hungry!

Dad: Have some more pie, Nick! It's in the kitchen.

Get more words

There are six mistakes in these instructions. Can you correct them?

Mix

Peel the sugar and butter with a knife in a large bowl.

Chop the eggs to the butter and sugar.

Add the flour to the mug and mix everything.

Boil it in the oven.

When it is ready, slice it with a sharp fork.

Fun Spot

What is the recipe for?

- 1 Sunday Cake
- 2 Sweet Pasta
- 3 Spicy Pie