

PERFECT GERUND

Rewrite each sentence using a perfect gerund (having + V3). You must keep the meaning the same.

Example.

She regretted that she had forgotten her keys. ➔ She regretted having forgotten her keys.

1. She felt embarrassed because she had made a mistake.
➔ She felt embarrassed about _____ a mistake.
2. The manager apologized for the fact that he had disregarded your message.
➔ The manager apologized for _____ your message.
3. They admitted that they had reviewed the documents too late.
➔ They admitted _____ the documents too late.
4. I felt embarrassed because I had presumed the wrong answer.
➔ I felt embarrassed about _____ the wrong answer.
5. He denied that he had analyzed the data incorrectly.
➔ He denied _____ the data incorrectly.
6. She couldn't forgive herself for the fact that she hadn't foreseen the risks.
➔ She couldn't forgive herself for _____ the risks.
7. He regretted that he had reconsidered the offer too late.
➔ He regretted _____ the offer too late.
8. They admitted that they had rejected several good proposals.
➔ They admitted _____ several good proposals.
9. She apologized for the fact that she had dismissed his concerns.
➔ She apologized for _____ his concerns.
10. The student admitted that he had interpreted the instructions incorrectly.
➔ The student admitted _____ the instructions incorrectly.
11. Tom hated the fact that he had climbed the mountain.
➔ Tom hated _____ the mountain.
12. She remembered that she had watched that movie before.
➔ She remembered _____ that movie before.
13. The murderer admitted that he had killed the old lady.
➔ The murderer admitted _____ the old lady.
14. My son recalled that he had hidden his toy under the bed.
➔ My son recalled _____ his toy under the bed.
15. The security guard was accused of helping the robbers during the robbery.
➔ The security guard was accused of _____ the robbers during the robbery.