SARAH GETS TO WORK

Sarah's family sat down for dinner.

Sarah said, "I hate pork chops!"

"I spent a lot of time making this for you," said Sarah's dad. "You are being rude!"

Sarah didn't want to be rude, but she also wanted food that she liked. The next evening, Sarah got to work in the kitchen. She cooked noodles and made cheese sauce. She cut apples and set the table. It was hard work! Her dad sat down and looked at the food. What would he say?

"Thanks for making dinner, Sarah!" said Sarah's dad. His words made her feel good.

Stories have a beginning, middle, and end. Label the pictures with a B for beginning, an M for middle, and an E for end to match the story events. Can you use the pictures to tell someone else the events of the story in order?

M | E | B

LIVEWORKSHEETS