

Grammar & Vocabulary

Homes and Houses

Match two halves of a sentence.

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1. It is warm in the bathroom  | but it's dark in the bedroom because we have blackout curtains. |
| 2. It is simple to use the coffee maker now,                               | but there was only a small bath before.                         |
| 3. It is bright in the living room because of the floor-to-ceiling window, | thanks to the heated towel rail.                                |
| 4. This is the double-door fridge we use now,                              | so I bought a new toaster and mixer.                            |
| 5. This is the kitchen island we ordered,                                  | but there were some problems when I first bought it.            |
| 6. There is a walk-in shower in this bathroom,                             | but the one we had last year was much smaller.                  |
| 7. There are new sheets on the king-size bed,                              | because the cushions here are soft.                             |
| 8. There were the kitchen appliances on sale last week,                    | but our old kitchen never had anything like it.                 |
| 9. It is nice to sit on the soft carpet,                                   | because we changed them this morning.                           |
| 10. It is comfortable to read in the cosy corner,                          | and they are still wet.   |
| 11. These are the towels we washed today,                                  | but now there is a wall-mounted TV.                             |
| 12. There was a big mirror on this wall,                                   | because the wooden floor feels cold.                            |