

1-Read the text.

Today the weather is sunny and a little windy, so I am in the garden with my parents. The sky looks nice after the spring showers and I can see a small rainbow. I wear my jacket because it is cool. My little brother is excited because the weather forecast says it may be snowy tomorrow and he wants to make a snowman. The weather changes my feelings too.

On sunny days I feel happy, but on rainy or foggy days I feel moody. When it is freezing, I put on my coat, scarf and gloves. My grandparents stay at home on stormy days because they feel nervous, but today is pleasant, so we want to spend time outside together.
