

GRAMMAR ➤ Second Conditional

If her flight arrived earlier, I'd be able to go to the airport.
What would you do if you were me?

3 ●●● Complete the second sentence so that it means the same as the first one. Use the Second Conditional.

1 I have a lot of exams this year, so I'm really stressed.

I wouldn't be so stressed if I didn't have a lot of exams.

2 Jack's parents always get worried when he gets bad grades at school.

Jack's parents were worried if he had better grades at school.

3 I'm not old enough to watch that film.

I wasn't old enough to watch that film if I was older.

4 I don't have a big house, so I won't invite many people to the party.

I wasn't able to invite many people to the party if I had a bigger house.

5 ●●● Complete the article with one word in each gap.

Money or friends?

What would you do if you won £10 million?

2 were you had that amount of money, you wouldn't need to work – ever! Just imagine that! If you were able to work, you wouldn't be able to spend your life travelling or relaxing — doing exactly what you wanted. Does that sound good to you?

Most people imagine that if they were rich, they would be happier.

They think that if money were not a problem for them, they wouldn't have any worries in the world. But in reality, it seems this isn't true. Psychologists have found that what really makes us happy is our family and friends, and money can't buy those.
