I'm Oliver Jones from England, and I'm here to tell you about my selfie project. When I was ten, I got my first camera. I loved taking pictures with it. It _____ film, so I had to take the film to a shop to print my photos. When I was twelve, I got a webcam for my computer, and I _____ it to take a picture of myself. That was my first selfie! When I was thirteen, I finally got a smartphone. I could take pictures of myself anywhere! I started to take selfies every day. Now, I'm fourteen years old, and I have over a thousand selfies on my phone. Recently, I posted them all on my blog to share them with you! I plan to continue this project for the rest of my life. And I hope others start a selfie project too!
