TRS501 – Business Ethics 2 – Review

Label the statements with:

MC: Masculine Culture	FC: Feminine Culture
HUA: High Uncertainty Avoidance	LUA: Low Uncertainty Avoidance
IC: Indulgent culture	RC: Restrained culture
HCC: High-context culture	LCC: Low-context culture

1. ____ These nations will accept more ambiguity.
2. ____ The employees may be expected to solve problems without discussing issues with managers.
3. ____ These nations may be able to recover from financial crises better.
4. ____ These nations don't not have a large number of entrepreneurs.
5. ____ Hearing 'yes' from your high-context business partners may not actually mean 'yes,' and 'maybe' might really mean 'no.'"
6. ____ These nations tend to be more innovative.
7. ____ These nations are less likely to start new entrepreneurial ventures.
8. ____ Workers judge their success based on how they perform relative to others around them.
9. ____ People rely on the context, situation, or even knowledge of the culture to help communicate and interpret messages.
10. ____ Their websites often encourage users to interact with the content to discover the key messages, rather than just stating them directly.
11. ____ These nations are more averse to risk.
12. ____ People are competitive.
13. ____ These nations are likely to have more laws and regulations.
14. ____ High-quality of life is valued more than individual achievement of financial rewards.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

15. ____ People exchange information in a more reserved and indirect manner, with implied meanings behind messages.
16. ____ People measure success according to how much happiness they derive from doing their work.
17. ____ These nations have a tendency to suppress, or put aside, personal desires
18. ____ Employees may be offended if their individual efforts are not acknowledged.
19. ____ Criticizing or disagreeing with others or being negative—particularly to a boss—can be seen as extremely rude and offensive
20. ____ People aim to be number one at any given task.
21. ____ People place great importance on individual leisure time
22. ____ People are comfortable with the idea of people pursuing pleasures and having fun
23. ____ These nations have strict moral values and carefully regulated social norms.
24. ____ These nations have lower crime rates but larger police forces.
25. ____ The employees are generally expected to report to a manager about setbacks or even failures.
26. ____ These nations also tend to have higher crime rates but smaller police forces.
27. ____ People may not be as likely to smile at or greet strangers.
28. ____ People communicate in a very direct way
29. ____ People voice our opinions, even if they disagree with others
30. ____ Their websites may feature direct messages with logical, clear information.

LIVEWORKSHEETS