Love Your Work

Uri Geller said, "Do what you love. When you love your work, you become the best worker in the world." This is a great quote, but first you have to choose a career to love. The first step is to think about what interests you and then see what careers there are in that area.

MUSIC LOVERS

A lot of people love music, but most of us can't play an instrument well enough to become a musician or sing well enough to become a pop star. Luckily, there are lots of other jobs out there in music like being a DJ. You'll get to go to lots of parties and travel the world as you play songs for people's special occasions or in night clubs.

Do you like writing and going to concerts? Then, become a music journalist! Start small: write reviews and articles for the school magazine or a local newspaper and then apply for an internship with a music magazine or a national newspaper, and who knows? One day, you may meet lots of big bands and pop stars!

NATURE LOVERS

Maybe you don't want to be a gardener, but you can still work in nature! A park ranger works in nature parks, wildlife reserves and forests to look after the plants and animals that live there. It's a great job with lots of variety. You will enjoy nature and get a good wage. You can start as a volunteer during your summer holidays.

If you ever think, 'I could look at nature all day', then the job of a nature photographer is for you. Nature photographers take photos of different nature scenes. It isn't very difficult to become a nature photographer, and you can start practising right now! Start a blog for free and post your photos, enter competitions and learn about photo editing software.

For questions 1-3, decide if the sentences are true (T) or false (F).

- 1 A DJ plays a musical instrument. _____
- 2 DJs get to travel around the world. _____
- 3 A music journalist works for magazines and newspapers. _____
