Tastybite recommends: Your restaurant reviews – good and bad!

La Cocina

We had an amazing meal last week at a Mexican restaurant called La Cocina. Everything we ate was fantastic and the staff were all very helpful. Our waiter, Miguel, told us that the best dish on the menu was definitely their fajitas – so of course we had to try them! Fajitas are flat, round breads which are served with pieces of spicy beef or chicken, fried onions and peppers, and sour cream. You can have vegetarian ones as well. They were absolutely delicious! The loud music which they were playing in the restaurant was a bit annoying, but when I complained to our waiter, he turned it down. If you enjoy spicy Mexican food, you'll love La Cocina!

Leo

Il Forno

I went with my family to Il Forno, the new Italian restaurant on Bridge Street. For our starters, my sister and I had the bruschetta – slices of crunchy garlic bread with chopped tomatoes on top. My parents decided to try something more unusual – grilled mushrooms with garlic and herbs. My main course was a creamy pasta dish, while everyone else had huge pizzas and side dishes of salad. My family said the pizzas were excellent. I wanted dessert as well – the restaurant do lovely frozen yoghurts with fresh fruit – but I was too full! We all really enjoyed our meal, and I would recommend Il Forno.

Kelly

La Taberna

If you like Spanish food, you'll love La Taberna! I went there with four of my friends to celebrate my sixteenth birthday and we had a great time. It's a traditional tapas place, so there are no main courses on the menu. Tapas are hot and cold savoury snacks, such as pieces of meat, fish, seafood, cheese and vegetables, which are shared with everyone. The tapas all come on small, round plates – we had ordered a range and they were all very tasty. My best friend, Julia, had baked me a birthday cake, which our waiter brought us when we had finished the tapas. It was the best birthday I've ever had!

Jasmine

Oriental Kitchen

On Saturday, my friend Jason and I went to this new Chinese restaurant which has just opened near the station. We were very disappointed. When we arrived, we had to wait twenty minutes for a table because it was very busy. When we got our main courses, they were disappointing. My friend's sweet and sour chicken with fried rice was very salty, and he said it was disgusting. My stir-fried prawns with vegetables were cold. It was the worst meal I'd ever had!

William
