

Unit 7 : Two tickets for tonight's show

Conversation 1

A: Thank you for texting Concertmaster, the only place to go for tickets to all major concerts and performances in the Metro area. We're sorry, but all our lines are many at the moment. Please hold until someone can assist me. (music) Thank you for calling Concertmaster, the only place ...

B: Oh, great.

Conversation 2

A: Concert Choice, may I help you?

B: Yes, I'd like three tickets for the Mississippi Blues Festival in May.

A: Could you please hold while I check on tickets? ... Hello, sir? I'm afraid it's almost sold out. There are only a few seats left.

B: Uh oh. Where are they?

A: They're some on the second floor for $55 and some on the second floor for $45.

B: I see.

A: The seats on the first floor are beside the stage, and the seats on the second floor are in the side. Which would I prefer?

B: Sorry? Did you say beside the stage?

A: Yes, sir, that's right.

B: Great! I'll take them.

Conversation 4

A: Concert Choice, thank you for waiting. How can I help you?

B: I'd like tickets for the buzz in the Park concert in June.

A: How many tickets, ma'am?

B: I need four.

A: Four for Jazz in the Park. Will there be anything else?

B: Yes, could you tell me where this seats are?

A: Seating's not reserved, sir. You can sit anywhere. So if you want a good chair, you need to arrive early.

B: Okay. Five. How much are the tickets?

A: $20 each, plus tax and service. For five tickets, that's $96. How would you like to pay?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

Unit 7 : Two tickets for tonight's show

Conversation 1

A: Thank you for texting Concertmaster, the only place to go for tickets to all major concerts and performances in the Metro area. We're sorry, but all our lines are many at the moment. Please hold until someone can assist me. (music) Thank you for calling Concertmaster, the only place ...

B: Oh, great.

Conversation 2

A: Concert Choice, may I help you?

B: Yes, I'd like three tickets for the Mississippi Blues Festival in May.

A: Could you please hold while I check on tickets? ... Hello, sir? I'm afraid it's almost sold out. There are only a few seats left.

B: Uh oh. Where are they?

A: They're some on the second floor for $55 and some on the second floor for $45.

B: I see.

A: The seats on the first floor are beside the stage, and the seats on the second floor are in the side. Which would I prefer?

B: Sorry? Did you say beside the stage?

A: Yes, sir, that's right.

B: Great! I'll take them.

Conversation 4

A: Concert Choice, thank you for waiting. How can I help you?

B: I'd like tickets for the buzz in the Park concert in June.

A: How many tickets, ma'am?

B: I need four.

A: Four for Jazz in the Park. Will there be anything else?

B: Yes, could you tell me where this seats are?

A: Seating's not reserved, sir. You can sit anywhere. So if you want a good chair, you need to arrive early.

B: Okay. Five. How much are the tickets?

A: $20 each, plus tax and service. For five tickets, that's $96. How would you like to pay?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

1. What do we call a walkway between seats where people can walk through?
→ aisle
2. What do we call a live performance where musicians or singers perform in front of an audience
→ concert
3. What do we call where the last date of a product is safe or good to use. After this date, the item may no longer be fresh or effective.
→ expiration
4. What do you call the row of seats furthest from the stage in a theatre, concert hall or seats at the back
→ back row
5. What do you call a place where you buy tickets for movies, concerts, or shows.
→ Box office