READING

Family life

1 Look at the pictures and read the texts. Label the pictures with the names in the box.

Abdou and Souleymane | Bertie | Carla | Coumba | Liam

Coumba's family

Coumba is thirteen years old. She is from Bamako in Mali, West Africa. Her family is very big. She lives in a house with her two little brothers, Abdou and Souleymane, her mom and dad, and her grandparents. Her aunt and uncle and their children also live there. Coumba's cousins are good friends.

Her mom and dad work all day. Her grandma and aunt are at home. They eat together every day, which Coumba enjoys.

Is it good to live in a big family?

"Yes, it is. There is always someone at home, so it isn't boring!" says Coumba. "But I also have time when I can study and see my friends."

Liam's family

Twelve-year-old Liam's family is different from Coumba's. He's British and lives in Bristol, in England, with his mother and his sister, Carla. She's ten. Their dad doesn't live with them. Their house is a little small, but it's nice. They have a dog. His name is Bertie.

Liam's mother is a teacher. She works all day.

Liam's dad lives near Liam and Carla, and they go to his house on weekends. Their grandparents are from Ireland, but they live in Bristol.

"I'm happy here. My mom is great and works very hard, and I see my dad on the weekend."
