

MY FUTURE WILL NOT WAIT

This program is just the start! I am actively building my career blueprint because I know the hospital floor won't wait for me. My core _____ will always be providing compassionate care, and I know that strong sense of purpose will fuel me every day.

I have a realistic understanding of the job. The long shifts _____ tiring, and some situations will definitely be _____. But I won't shrink from that. I will accept the challenges of this role, and I will use them for greater strength and resilience.

I have a _____ for my future. My plan is solid: I will work as a PCT for two years to sharpen my _____, and then I will begin nursing school. To ensure my success, I will seek out experienced nurses for guidance; their knowledge will play a big role in my development.

If I stick to this plan—clear on my motivation and strong on my commitment—I will be ready to impress any hiring manager and succeed in the field!
