Sailing's Young Hope

Ellen MacArthur is the inspirational woman sailor who on February 7, 2005 broke the world record when she became the fastest person to sail around the world. Ellen became interested in sailing at the age of eight when she was taken aboard her aunt's sailing boat. This was an exciting experience for a young girl living in land-locked Derbyshire so far from the coast.

Ellen faced many difficulties in becoming a professional sailor because she lacked sponsorship. Despite this, she raised enough money to buy a boat and when she was twenty, she entered the Mini Transat race in France and sailed her boat 3000 miles across the Atlantic in just 33 days. Impressed by this remarkable achievement, a group called Kingfisher gave Ellen sponsorship. Ellen's career as a sailor really took off after this, particularly in France, where she was adored by the public and was given the official title 'Sailing's Young Hope'.
