B9. If you think of the jobs robots could never do, you will be probably put doctors and B10. teachers at the top of the list. It's such easy to imagine robot cleaners and factory
B11. workers, but some jobs need lots human connection and creativity. But are we
B12. underestimating what robots can do? In some others cases, they already perform better
B13. than doctors at diagnosing illness. Also, some patients might to feel more comfortable
B14. sharing personal information with a machine than a few person. Could there be a place
B15. for robots in education after all? Does British education expert Anthony Seldon thinks
B16. so. He predicts robots what will do the main job of transferring information and teachers
B17. will be like assistants. Intelligent robots will read every students' faces, movements
B18. and maybe even brain signals. Then they will adapt the information to each of student.
