PRESENT SIMPLE – IT WORLD

1) Read the text carefully.

My name is Alex. I am 35 years old and I work as a full-stack developer. I work in a software company, but I work from home most days. I don't work alone. I work with a small team. We work on web apps and websites. Every day, I start work at nine o'clock. I open my computer and check my email. I read messages from my team and from clients. Then I open VS Code and start work. I write code and edit files. I build web apps and websites. I create pages, forms, and buttons. I use a database to save user data. My team works on the same project. We fix bugs and errors together. The designer works on the design. She creates pages and buttons. Another developer works on testing. He tests the app in a browser. The app works well. It loads fast and users like it. We finish work at six o'clock. We don't work on weekends. I like my job and I like working with my team.
