

Underline the six misspelled words in the paragraphs below. Write the words correctly on the lines.

Some kids like to lie around on their couches and watch television after school. Other kids have hobbys that they like to do. They enjoy collecting stamps or building models with real engins.

Some activities, such as cooking, may require help from parentes. But kids can do many other things by themselves. With some art supples from a craft store, countless projects are possible. And there are no such things as mistakees! Think of a mistake as creative inspiration. Take those ideas and run!
