

Part 1

Look at the text in each question. What does it say?
Answer A, B or C. Circle the letter of the correct answer.

1

To be taken between meals at six-hourly intervals, up to three times daily.

It is essential

- (a) to wait six hours before having more of this medicine.
- (b) to take this medicine straight after meals.
- (c) to use this medicine more than three times a day.

2

Louise.

Suzie rang. The photo shop hQS lost all her photos of your trip to Vienna and she'd like copies of yours.

Mum

What should Louise do?

- (a) take some new photos of Suzie.
- (b) give Suzie some photos.
- (c) help Suzie find her photos.

3

Basketball Training
Professional coach available for pre-booked groups - 48 hours' notice required

- (a) Basketball players are only allowed to practise here if accompanied by a professional coach.
- (b) Basketball training for groups is cancelled until further notice.
- (c) A basketball coach is available if a booking is made far enough in advance.

4

We're staying at the Plaza Hotel. It's not the hotel we wanted but It doesn't matter because this one is nearer the beach and I'm spending all my time there.

Sabrina

How does Sabrina feel about the Plaza Hotel?

- (a) She's disappointed with it.
- (b) She wishes it was nearer the beach.
- (c) She thinks it has an advantage.

5

CHARLTON THEATRE

Book early for Swan Lake to avoid disappointment as this is a popular show.

- (a) We regret that there are no tickets left for the early performance of Swan Lake.
- (b) If you want to see Swan Lake, buy your tickets as soon as possible.
- (c) Swan Lake is unfortunately cancelled due to disappointing ticket sales.

Part 2

You are going to read an extract from a newspaper article. For Questions 8-14, choose the answer (A, B, C or D) which you think fits best according to the text.

Motorsports are my passion, and one day I'd love to challenge myself by taking part in the Dakar Rally. The rally is a long-distance off-road race, which runs for 15 days across varied terrain, with drivers having to cope with desert, mud and rocks. So tough is definitely the word you'd use to describe it. I think that's what appeals to me so much about it. Dad and I follow the race every year on TV, so I've got quite a good knowledge of it now. We're really into engineering and adapting vehicles - Dad's got this old jeep that we've been working on, making it suitable for tricky off-road driving.

In the Dakar Rally, you can drive any vehicle - motorbike, two- or four-wheel drives, even trucks! They're heavily adapted, so you need a lot of experience as a mechanic. They have to be modified in order to be able to withstand the journey- you couldn't do it in an ordinary car because it would just fall apart! You don't need to be a professional rally driver to take part, but it helps having experience driving in difficult conditions. As well as all of that, it's a case of saving up a lot of money because the whole thing is really expensive, from investing in spare parts for the vehicle, to buying a two week supply of fuel and other supplies.

I first became interested in the rally after being lucky enough to catch the launch of the race one year when I was on holiday. There was a definite tension in the air the day before the race. From where we were standing we could see the area where the teams - drivers and their mechanics - were making repairs and preparations which could only be done at the last minute. All I could see was a mechanic's legs sticking out from under each vehicle and everyone getting on quietly with the task at hand, helping each other out, despite the pressure.

Next day, we headed down to the starting line. I'd expected the vehicles to set off all at once, and when they left one by one, I really didn't know what was going on. Then I overheard someone saying that it was what's known as a time trial. Every vehicle, whether it's a motorbike or a lorry, is timed, and the fastest to complete the route is the winner in each category. Off they went in turn, in a cloud of dust and their engines revving at an incredible volume. I'd never seen anything like it and, before I knew it, the cars had disappeared from sight.

That experience encouraged me to find out more about this amazing race. The route is around 10,000 kilometres long, depending on which country it takes place in, so there's a lot of driving involved. You mustn't lose concentration for a minute and that's what really puts the drivers to the test. You also can't possibly imagine what you're going to encounter ahead - meeting obstacles, skidding on loose stones, crossing rivers, breaking down, you name it. It must be exhausting and thrilling at the same time. But you can't just go full speed ahead like you would on a race-track or you'd tire yourself out on the first day and it'd be really hard to keep going.

The competitors are given a map and have to find their way themselves. Comprehensive instructions are included on this map; however, given the fact that there are few landmarks along the way, this must be really demanding when you're unfamiliar with the territory. Some people get lost, and end up in the wrong place, but they just have to find their way back to the route again. Each day, the drivers aim to complete a particular stage. If they encounter setbacks which mean they don't make it, they spend an uncomfortable night with whatever hazards that might involve. Finishing the race is, therefore, a major achievement.

- 1 Amber is attracted to the idea of participating in the Dakar Rally because she
  - a. enjoys taking part in motorsports events.
  - b. likes the idea of doing something so difficult.
  - c. has been involved in preparing a vehicle for it.
  - d. has learned a lot about it from her father.
- 2 What does 'able to withstand' in line 19 mean?
  - a. economical enough to run throughout
  - b. strong enough to endure
  - c. large enough to cope with
  - d. advanced enough to be successful at
- 3 What made an impression on Amber when she saw teams preparing for a race?
  - a. how late some of them had left it
  - b. how excited everyone seemed to be
  - c. how well they were working together
  - d. how many people were involved
- 4 How does Amber say she felt as she stood at the starting line?
  - a. grateful to another spectator
  - b. concerned by the noise
  - c. interested to learn about the vehicles
  - d. surprised at what happened
- 5 In the fifth paragraph, what does Amber say is especially challenging about driving?
  - a. coping with its effects on the body
  - b. staying focused for long periods of time
  - c. being able to keep up the required pace
  - d. trying to predict what is coming next
- 6 What does Amber say about the guidance drivers are given?
  - a. It provides a high level of detail.
  - b. It can be interpreted in different ways.
  - c. It is straightforward to follow.
  - d. It highlights possible dangers.

Part 3

Read the text below

Use the word in the box on the right of the text to make the words that fit in the gaps. Write your answers in the spaces under the text. (Write the first letter small & DON'T put space at the end)

Running for health

Pizza is a food that enjoys popularity world-wide. It has a long history. Pizza as we know it today came into (1)..... city of Naples in the 1700s.

Naples was by then becoming a major (2).....city and large numbers of people were moving there for work. Many of the city's (3).....were poor. They wanted food that was nourishing but (4).....Pizza could be made with cheap, simple and (5) .....available ingredients, and so was ideal.

The (6)..... of tomatoes into Italian cuisine in the 18th and early 19th centuries finally gave us the true modern Italian pizza. Even though tomatoes had reached Italy by the 1530s, it was widely thought that they were a (7).....fruit and, therefore, were only grown for decoration. Pizza gradually spread to other parts of Italy and when the first pizzeria opened in the USA in 1905, it started to become the (24) . known and loved dish it is today

EXIST
INDUSTRY
INHABIT
EXPENSE
READY
INTRODUCE
POISON
INTERNATIONAL

1. ....
2. ....
3. ....
4. ....
5. ....
6. ....
7. ....
8. ....
9. ....
10. ....

Part 4

Read the text below and choose the correct word for each space. For each question, circle A, B, C or D.

THE FIRST BICYCLE

You're undoubtedly so used to hearing birds singing and calling out to each other that you barely pause to think about what the sounds they're making really mean. You may be (1) ..... that calls are used for different purposes, perhaps to signal a predator is close by, provide information to other birds about the location of a food (2) ..... or to defend territory. But how can you (3) ..... what message is being conveyed?

Birds don't use words in the way humans do, but like us, they (4) ..... emotionally to different situations by using these different calls to communicate with each other. (5) ..... you're in a place where you don't speak the local language and someone screams or shouts out. You would understand whether that person was scared or excited simply from the tone of their voice. Bird calls seem to function in a very similar (6) ..... For example, bird calls are soft when birds are calm or feeding, and loud and aggressive when they're under (7) ..... Listen carefully, and these differences will help you (8) ..... out what the bird is saying!

- |   |           |            |            |             |
|---|-----------|------------|------------|-------------|
| 1 | A alert   | B familiar | C aware    | D sensitive |
| 2 | A origin  | B source   | C point    | D base      |
| 3 | A notice  | B catch    | C realise  | D tell      |
| 4 | A reply   | B behave   | C respond  | D act       |
| 5 | A Believe | B Presume  | C Consider | D Imagine   |
| 6 | A method  | B nature   | C manner   | D process   |
| 7 | A threat  | B risk     | C danger   | D fear      |
| 8 | A look    | B figure   | C watch    | D carry     |