

READING ACTIVITY

1.- Read the following text.

A day at Luke High School

It is a sunny Tuesday morning at Luke High School. Right now, students are arriving at school and greeting their friends at the entrance. Some students are checking their schedules, others are walking to different places around the school.

Classes have begun; inside the classroom, the English teacher is explaining a new topic, and the students are taking notes carefully. In the science lab, students are wearing safety glasses and conducting an experiment. They are mixing chemicals and observing the results.

In the library, the librarian is organizing shelves and helping students find books. A student is using a computer to research information for a history project, while another student is reading quietly at a table. The atmosphere in the library is calm, and everyone is working peacefully.

At the same time, in the cafeteria, workers are preparing lunch. They are cutting vegetables, cooking meals, and cleaning the tables. A few students are waiting in line and talking about their plans for the afternoon.

Luke High School is alive with activity. Students, teachers, and staff are all doing different things, but they are sharing the same space.
