I really don't enjoy shopping in real shops on the high street. Let me explain: I don't mind going to real shops to buy things like food, but I don't enjoy shopping at these shops for things like clothes. Some people love everything about this type of shopping – trying things on and then paying at the till – but not me!

I like shopping from my living room at home – just me and my phone! I've got a lot of websites that I use all the time. I know a website for shoes, one for dresses and, my favourite, one for jackets. Shopping online means that I can browse and pay for my things without leaving my house – perfect! And if I don't like the things I buy, I can get a refund. And here is another reason why I like shopping online. Yesterday, I was looking for a new pair of boots when suddenly a message popped up. It said, 'All boots now 50% off.' Now that's a good deal!
