

Leisure Through Time

Task 1 Read the following questions and choose the best answer

- 1. Why did young women in the early 20th century have more freedom than before?
 - a) They were granted more holiday time by the church.
 - b) They earned their own income and often lived away from home.
 - c) The government passed laws allowing them to visit dance halls.
 - d) Their parents encouraged them to seek out commercial recreation.

- 2. According to the text, what was 'unprecedented' about the working week between 1860 and 1920?
 - a) The number of hours worked increased from 50 to 60.
 - b) The average working week dropped significantly from 66 to 51 hours.
 - c) Workers were given more money but less free time.
 - d) The religious middle class demanded that all shops close on Sundays.

- 3. Which social groups are specifically mentioned as having a new demand for recreation?
 - a) Only the predominant white population.
 - b) The emerging middle class and the working class.
 - c) Strictly the parents of young children.
 - d) Politicians and school teachers.

- 4. What was the influence of new immigrant groups on the leisure landscape?
 - a) They introduced alternative activities not previously experienced.
 - b) They campaigned against the rise of commercial recreation.
 - c) They were the primary funders of symphony orchestras.
 - d) They worked to ban alcohol in public pavilions.

- 5. What was the main difference between 'commercial recreation' and previous forms of fun?
 - a) It was only available to people living in rural areas.
 - b) It was a profit-making industry rather than self-made fun.
 - c) It focused entirely on reading and needlecraft.
 - d) It was strictly controlled by the religious middle class.

- 6. Why did the religious middle class found institutions like museums and symphony orchestras?
 - a) To compete with the prices of circus shows.
 - b) To provide a place for new immigrants to work.
 - c) To encourage pursuits that were morally upright and useful.
 - d) To create a secret meeting place for the YMCA.

- 7. What aspect of the new 'hedonistic' venues particularly worried traditional organisations?
- a) The expensive entry fees for working-class families.
 - b) The lack of available transport to get to the beaches.
 - c) Unsupervised socialising between the sexes.
 - d) The poor quality of the music in the band pavilions.
- 8. How did traditional organisations first attempt to limit the spread of new leisure establishments?
- a) By requiring dance halls and pool parlours to have permits.
 - b) By closing down all parks during the summer holidays.
 - c) By banning the use of any musical instruments in public.
 - d) By arresting anyone seen at a travelling fair
- 9. How did schools and museums change their schedules to compete with commercial entertainment?
- a) They began closing earlier to keep children off the streets at night.
 - b) They only opened during the weekends.
 - c) They remained open throughout the year, including the summer holidays.
 - d) They stopped offering sports to focus on academic studies.
- 10. What was the primary goal of voluntary organisations like the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts?
- a) To train children for jobs in the commercial recreation industry.
 - b) To encourage healthy, active, and moral pursuits for children.
 - c) To teach children how to build amusement park rides.
 - d) To protest against the development of city playgrounds.
- 11. Who provided national political backing for the Playground Association of America?
- a) The US President, Theodore Roosevelt.
 - b) The leaders of the YMCA and YWCA.
 - c) The owners of the new amusement parks.
 - d) Immigrant community leaders.
- 12. What was the belief of the Playground Association of America regarding children's play?
- a) Play was unnecessary and should be avoided.
 - b) Children should only play games inside school buildings.
 - c) Play was vital for learning but required effective leadership.
 - d) Playing on the streets should be a punishable offence.

Task 2 Decide if each statement is True (T), False (F), or Doesn't Say (DS) if the information is not provided in the text.

1. Women only began taking jobs in the early 20th century because of a new law.

2. The working week dropped to 50 hours during the period mentioned. _____
3. Immigrants were the first group to introduce dance halls to America. _____
4. Commercial recreation was designed specifically to generate profit. _____
5. Before the 20th century, reading was considered a 'self-made' fun activity. _____
6. The religious middle classes preferred leisure that was useful to society. _____
7. Tickets for circus shows were more expensive than cinema tickets. _____
8. Religious groups feared that new social venues would corrupt young people. _____
9. Bowling alleys were required to have permits to limit their growth. _____
10. The Boy Scouts was the first voluntary organisation ever founded in America. _____
11. In the 18th century, children could be arrested for playing in the street. _____
12. Luther Halsey Gulick was a personal friend of President Roosevelt. _____