At the Doctor's

Doctor: Good morning. What's the problem?

Patient: Good morning, doctor. I don't feel very well.

Doctor: What's wrong?

Patient: I have a headache and a sore throat. I feel tired all the time.

Doctor: How long have you felt like this?

Patient: For three days.

Doctor: Do you have a fever?

Patient: Yes, a little.

Doctor: I see. You should rest and drink a lot of water. Take this medicine two times a day.

Patient: Do I need to stay at home?

Doctor: Yes. Stay at home for two days and don't go to work.

Patient: Thank you, doctor.

Doctor: You're welcome. Get well soon.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Comprehension Questions

1. Is the patient very sick or a little sick? Why?

2. Does the patient usually work or study? How do you know?

3. Why does the doctor say “stay at home”?

4. How does the patient probably feel at the end of the dialogue?

LIVEWORKSHEETS