Part 2

Listen and look. There is one example.

Woman: Jane, would you like some new clothes for your birthday?

Girl: No thanks, Mom.

Woman: What would you like then?

Girl: My friend's got a new computer game. Can I have one of those?

Woman: A computer game? OK.

Can you see the answers? Now you listen and write.

1

Woman: What's the name of the computer game?

Girl: It's called In the Zoo – oh, that's not right. It's In the Jungle.

Woman: In the Jungle?

Girl: Yes. You have to find the animals which are hiding. It's great.

2

Woman: Is it a good game for children of your age?

Girl: Yes, it says on the box that it's for ages eight to thirteen.

Woman: Thirty?

Girl: No. Thirteen. But you can play it too, Mom!

3

Woman: Where can I buy it?

Girl: In the computer shop in town. It's called Game World.

Woman: Sorry?

Girl: Game World.

Woman: Oh, I know. It's near my favourite café.

Girl: That's right.

4

Woman: And what do you want to do on your birthday?

Girl: Can I invite Kim Smith to our house?

Woman: Kim who?

Girl: Smith. You know. S-M-I-T-H.

Woman: Oh yes. That's fine.

5

Girl: And Mom?

Woman: Yes?

Girl: Please can I have a birthday cake?

Woman: Yes. I can make one for you.

Girl: Great. With a picture of a kangaroo on it?

Woman: A kangaroo? Oh Jane! That's difficult.
