It is often considered that the schoolyard is where bullies go to make other kids a miserable school life, but a new study suggests that classrooms are another popular place. The study, presented recently at the American Public Health Association's yearly meeting in Philadelphia, is based on the results of the research from more than 10,000 middle school students who answered questions online.

According to researched students, 43% said they were physically bullied within the last month. Half of surveyed studentssaid they were laughed at in an unfriendly way, and half reported being called hurtful names. About one-third said groups excluded them to hurt their feelings. 28% said their belongings were taken or broken; 21% said someone threatened to hurt them. According to the results, two-thirds of the students said they were bullied in more than one way over the previous month.

The study authors mentioned that 8% of the students who answered said they missed school at least once during the school year because of fear of being bullied. 25% said they took other actions, such as missing recess, not going to the bathroom or lunch, missing classes, or staying away from some areas of the school to escape from experiencing a bully. Bullies did too much to school life.

Question 29 (Question ID: 9-844092)

Four phrases/sentences have been removed from the text below. Choose the correct answer to complete the text. Write only the letter A-D in each blank.

A. But of course, you need to work hard and show that you are reliable
B. However, our first experience of work is a very important one.
C. It's also important to work in a company where you like your employer.
D. But if you have a job that makes you feel anxious or miserable

In general, we will all spend about two-thirds of our life at work. This means that we will probably have many different jobs over the years. Q29.1..... If your first job is pleasant, you won't be worried about working. Q29.2..... you may think that work is something to dislike forever. For this reason, a person should think carefully before they apply for their first job.
For example, if you are the type of person who enjoys working outside and being very active, it would be silly to choose an occupation such as a receptionist. And let's face it, many people who start their first job are still teenagers with lots of energy. Q29.3..... There is nothing worse than having a boss that you don't like. Q29.4..... in order for them to trust you and know that you will do your job well.
