Read the following passage then choose the best answer to each question.

If parents bring up a child with the sole aim of turning the child into a genius, they will cause a disaster. According to several scientists, this is one of the biggest mistakes which ambitious parents make. Generally, the child will be only too aware of what his parents expect and will fail.

However, if parents are ambitious in a sensible way, the child may succeed in doing very well - especially if the parents are very supportive of their child.

Michael is very lucky. He is crazy about music, and his parents help him a lot by taking him to concerts and arranging private piano and violin lessons for him. Michael's mother knows very little about music, but his father plays the trumpet in a large orchestra. However, he never makes Michael enter music competitions if he is unwilling.

Winston, Michael's friend, however, is not so lucky. Both his parents are successful musicians, and they set too high standards for Winston. They want their son to be as successful as they are and so they enter him for every piano competition held. They are very unhappy when he does not win. Winston is always afraid that he will disappoint his parents and now he always seems quiet and unhappy.

D. that will operate the machine

Ever since it was first possible to make a real robot, people have been hoping for the invention of a machine Q29.1...... If boring and repetitive factory work could be managed by robots, why not boring and repetitive household chores, too?

For a long time, the only people who really gave the problem their attention were amateur inventors. And they came up against a major difficulty. Q29.2..... It has never been one job, it has always been many. A factory robot carries out one task endlessly until it is reprogrammed to do something else. Q29.3..... A housework robot, on the other hand, has to do several different types of cleaning and carrying jobs. It also has to cope with all the different shapes and positions of rooms, furniture, ornaments, cats, and dogs.

However, there have been some developments recently. Sensors are available to help the robot locate objects and avoid obstacles. We have the technology to produce the hardware. All that is missing is the software programs Q29.4......
