Music in Adverts

Music in advertising is carefully crafted to grab attention, set a mood, and communicate a brand's identity in just seconds. As you watch the following clips, listen closely to the music and write down the key musical features you notice—such as tempo, instrumentation, and dynamics and describe the mood each soundtrack creates. Think about how the music helps convey the message or feel of the advert.

1. Watch this video which shows the making of the Lloyd's TSB London 2012 advert.

Musical features (think dynamics, tempo, instrumentation, tonality (major/ minor), pitch etc.	Mood created

Often adverts use famous pieces of classical music as the sound track. Watch the following two adverts and comment on the effect created by the music.
