UNIT 7: VIET NAM AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Viet Nam has become an active member of many international organizations in recent decades. Joining these organizations has helped the country strengthen its economy, improve education, and build strong relationships with other nations. One of the most important milestones was Viet Nam's membership in the United Nations in 1977. Since then, the country has participated in many global activities for peace and development.

Viet Nam is also a member of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN). Through ASEAN, Viet Nam cooperates with neighboring countries to promote regional stability, cultural exchange, and economic growth. In addition, Viet Nam joined the World Trade Organization (WTO) in 2007. This membership has created more opportunities for trade and investment, allowing Vietnamese products to reach international markets.

By taking part in international organizations, Viet Nam shows its commitment to cooperation and responsibility. The country has sent peacekeeping forces to conflict areas and has actively contributed to environmental protection programs. Moreover, international cooperation helps Viet Nam learn from other countries' experiences in science, technology, and education.
