Review of Daniel Craig's last James Bond film, No Time to Die

Many James Bond films are ¹ on novels by Ian Fleming, but this one was written specially for the film. The ² includes Daniel Craig as the retired (!) James Bond, along with Ralph Fiennes as M, Ben Wishaw as Q, and Léa Seydoux as Madeleine.

The film is ³ in Italy and on a remote island, and the scenery – as always in James Bond films – is stunning. There are the usual action-filled car chase ⁴, which are always fun, as well as some more emotional ones, for example, when Bond is with his girlfriend – and her young child. The ⁵ is unexpected! I wouldn't call it a ⁶ as such, but there are certainly some surprises!

As for the ⁷, well, it's the usual James Bond suit and nothing else very exciting. The ⁸ is as great as ever, with dramatic music throughout and the well-known James Bond theme, though unfortunately, we never actually hear the full tune!
