PART 3: READING COMPREHENSION

Read the passage carefully and choose the correct answer (A, B, C, or D).

Camels

Camels are one of the only large animals that can live happily in the Sahara Desert. The hot weather and strong winds are not a problem for them. Also, they do not need to eat or drink every day, and this makes them very useful to the people who live there.

Camels begin working at the age of about four years old and don't stop until they are around 25 to 30. They can carry people or things a very long distance, and because of this they are sometimes called the 'ships of the desert'.

These days, there are roads across some parts of the Sahara, so buses and lorries are often used. However, in places where there are no roads, camels are still the only type of transport. Their wide feet help them walk easily on soft sand without sinking, and their humps store fat for energy during long journeys without food.

22. Why are camels called the "ships of the desert"?
    A. Because they live near the sea
    B. Because they can carry heavy loads over long distances in the desert
    C. Because they swim in sand like ships in water
