

Complete the information about two endangered species with the correct alternative.

The black lace cactus tiny, only 6 inches tall, and alone or in small groups in desert areas in Texas, the US. The plant endangered because people its habitat. In areas where farmers the land to plant grass for cattle, the cacti . The plant popular with collectors around the world because its large pink and purple flowers are very pretty. That's why the black lace cactus home for private collections.

Once, the Apollo Butterfly all over European and Asian meadows. Nowadays it . In our country they the butterfly on the list of endangered species in 1993. The species in many other countries, too: Sweden, Finland, Poland, the Czech Republic and it is illegal to catch, kill or harm it. The butterfly is endangered because human activities its natural habitat. Air pollution and acid rain their habitat. Collectors the beautiful butterfly and are ready to buy it at $3,000.

LIVEWORKSHEETS