

Statement sort

bacteria	virus	fungi

helps humans to digest food	can only multiply inside the living cells of another organism	can cause diseases such as flu and the common cold some types are visible to the naked eye	some types can be harmful, while others are helpful	these microorganisms include mould, yeast and mushrooms invisible to the naked eye and need a host to survive	some types are used to bake bread	can cause illnesses such as food poisoning