Landscape description: adjectives

Choose one adjective.

- She lived in a remote / lush / bustling / wild village, far from the urban noise.
- We walked along a pure / sheer / desolate / wide / pristine cliff, that dropped straight into the sea.
- The rocky desert was fertile / rugged / barren / dense / pristine , with no plant in sight.
- The forest was so bleak / tranquil / dense / humid / vast , that we could barely see the path ahead.
- The lake was surrounded by tranquil / picturesque / fertile / sheer scenery, perfect for photos.
- The land along this river is very rugged / pristine / lush / fertile , making it ideal for farming.
- A path led through the dense / barren / rugged / sheer coastline, where waves crashed against the cliffs.
- The storm left the area looking empty and vast / wide / humid / desolate.
- The woods remain largely dense / desolate / remote / untouched , with ancient trees still standing.
- The snow outside was glistening; urban / sheer / pristine / bleak / vast and unspoiled by footprints.

Fill the gaps with words from the box. Use each word once.

lush tranquil humid secluded dramatic hazy bustling arid vast sprawling

- They travelled across a _____, grassy plain that seemed endless to them.
- Above their heads were _____, jagged mountain peaks, resembling claws tearing at the sky.
- The beach was _____ with people during last holiday season.
- The hills looked _____ in the distance, blurred by heat and mist.
- Soon, the nearby villages were consumed by the _____ metropolis.
- The air was hot and _____, making it difficult to breathe.
- The cabin was tucked away in a _____ valley, far from any other houses.
- This region is extremely _____, with very little rainfall throughout the year.
- She was eager to hide away in the silence of the _____ garden.
- The _____ jungle was thick with vegetation, from trees and bushes to hanging vines.

Complete the sentences with your own ideas. Make sure they are logical and fit the context.

- The town was small and _____ , far from any major roads.
- The valley was green and _____ , bursting with vegetation.
- They walked through a _____ forest, where sunlight barely reached the ground.
- After weeks without rain, the land became dry and _____.
- They rested in a _____ meadow, enjoying the light breeze and soft, quiet buzzing of bees.

LIVEWORKSHEETS