Title: Teenagers and Technology

Sofia, Martin, and Lucas are three teenagers who use technology in different ways every day.

Sofia is 13 years old. She loves social media and creative apps. She uses her phone every day, especially in her bedroom. She likes taking photos and editing videos. Sofia says, "I really enjoy creating content, but I don't like spending too much time online." She usually spends two hours a day on her phone. She uses technology to communicate with friends and share her ideas. Her advice is: "Use technology to create and share positive things, but don't spend too many hours online."

Martin is also 13. He prefers using his computer at home. He often plays video games and sometimes watches tutorials to learn new skills. He likes strategy games, but he doesn't like violent games. He uses technology in the living room and sometimes at school. Martin says, "I like learning online because it is fun and interactive." He uses technology to study and relax. His advice is: "Enjoy technology, but remember to take breaks and do physical activities."

Lucas is 14 years old. He doesn't use technology all the time, but he regularly uses it for schoolwork. He usually works on his tablet in the kitchen. He likes listening to music and reading online books. He doesn't like social media very much. Lucas says, "I prefer using technology for learning." He uses it to do homework and search for information. His advice is: "Use technology responsibly and never share your personal information online."

These three teenagers show that technology can be useful, fun, and educational when we use it in a good way.
