Opening

After that, I travelled to a scorching desert. The golden sand moved under my feet and there was warm wind everywhere. The long journey made me weary, so I sat down for a rest.

Event 1

Then, I explored a lush jungle full of towering trees and twisting vines. Some animals came close and a monkey who swung through the branches looked at me. I looked around and wondered where my safe home was.

Event 2

First, I visited a bustling city with towering buildings and crowded roads. The enormous buses went past me as I looked around carefully. I wondered if this was the right place for me?

Event 3

Finally, I travelled back to my quiet burrow. My family were waiting and we felt joyful together. Now I know our home is the best place for us.

Conclusion

Last week, I went on an exciting adventure to find a new home. My small suitcase was packed and I left my sandy burrow. I felt cheerful but a little nervous to go somewhere new.
