The Bandung Sea of Fire is a famous historical event in Indonesian history. Bandung as Sea of Fire was a fire that occurred in the city of Bandung on March 24, 1946.The name, the Bandung Sea of Fire refers to the burning down of a part of Bandung during the Indonesian struggle for independence. Within seven hours, about 200.000 residents of Bandung burned their homes.

The event was triggered by an ultimatum given by the British commander in Bandung. He demanded Indonesian troops to leave the city because they refused to hand over their weapons to the Allies. Indonesian fighters and Bandung residents decided to burn down the area as they retreated from Bandung on 24th March in 1945, to prevent it being used by the Allies. There were black smoke billowing high in the air everywhere. The British Army began to attack so fierce. The greatest battle happened in the Village name Dayeuh Kolot, in South bandung, where there were a large ammunition depot belonging to British. In this battle, Barisan Rakyat Indonesia destroyed the ammunition depot.

Mohammad Toha, a young soldier, sneaked into the Dutch military headquarters in Dayeuh Kolot and ignited dynamite in the ammunitions warehouse. The explosion destroyed the warehouse, killed several Allied troops and unfortunately killed him too. In honour of his brave action, the main street in the area was named "Mohammad Toha" Street.

The strategy to fire Bandung was considered because the power of TRI and people's militia was not comparable to the British forces and NICA. The Bandung Sea of fire is proof that Indonesian independence was not given freely but was gained at the cost of many lives and a lot of destruction.
