

MC: Hi everyone. Today, I'll ask some members of the Technology Club to predict how people will communicate in the future. Let's meet Minh and Tom. Minh & Tom: Hi everyone. MC: Minh and Tom, how do you and your friends keep in contact? Minh: Well, we mostly text each other. We also send voice messages. Tom: I often see my friends in person, but sometimes we call via the Internet. MC: Do you think these ways of communication will still be popular in 50 years? Tom: Not really. We'll use more advanced ways, like telepathy. We'll pass our thoughts to another person without talking and ... MC: Hold on. I think only a very few people may have this ability. Minh: Yes, but in the future, everyone will be able to use telepathy. We'll wear a tiny device to catch our thoughts and send them to other people. MC: Cool! But will there be any problems with telepathy? Tom: Hmm, telepathy devices can "read" one's mind, so bad people might take advantage of it to control someone else. MC: Besides that, some people will	Read the interview again.
