

- Read the passage, then answer the questions below:

To teenage Saudis, spending comes naturally

Teenagers in Saudi Arabia spend most of their money on phones, cars, handbags and fashionable clothes in an attempt to fit into a better social circle, stretching their resources.

It is believed that Saudi teenagers spend a lot of money. Most of their money comes from their parents. In a survey done by a group of university students, teenagers seem to be spending so much money and not managing to save a lot.

The survey revealed that there is a wide difference in spending habits between genders; girls outspent boys on clothing and cosmetics, while boys spent more on electronics.
(Arab News, April 27, 2015)

A- Answer the following questions:

1- What do Saudi teenagers spend money on?

Books, magazines and phones. Phones, cars and handbags.

2- Do they manage to save money?

Yes, they do. No, they don't.

3- What do Saudi girls spend money on?

cars and electronics clothing and cosmetics

B- Choose the correct answer:

1- Most of Saudi teens' money comes from their (teachers – parents – friends).

2- Boys spend more money than girls on (clothing – cosmetics – electronics).