Learning through our lives

We went out on the streets and asked five people what they would like to learn. Here are their replies ...

Nick: I love dancing. I can dance salsa, but I would like to learn a new dance. Dancing is so much fun. It's good for your health, but also it is a good way of meeting people. I met lots of my friends at dance classes.

Joan: I don't have lots of time to learn something new. At the moment, I'm studying at university. I am studying law and I am learning a lot. It's really hard and it takes up a lot of my time. I am always in the library!

Hannah: I already speak three languages – English, French and Polish. So, I don't think I'd like to learn another language. I don't play many sports, so I'd like to do that. Maybe something like tennis or football, so I can play with people and not alone.

Thomas: My dad and I are both bad at cooking but we want to learn. We're starting a course tomorrow at 8 p.m. at a college! I love eating Mexican food. There is a really good Mexican restaurant in town. I would like to learn how to make good Mexican food like they do.

Sue: I don't really want to learn a new skill, but I need to. My son has moved to Australia, and I need to speak to him online. I am not very good at using computers, so I would like to learn how to use computers. I think there are free courses for older people like me.
