

Omar's Free Time Day

Omar enjoys his free time at the weekend, especially on Saturday. In the morning, he wakes up early and stays at home. He sits in his room and reads a story book because it is quiet, fun, and interesting. After that, he plays computer games on his computer for a short time.

In the afternoon, Omar goes outside with his family. They drive to the mountains in their car. The mountains are high and rocky. They go hiking together and enjoy the fresh cool air. They walk slowly and take pictures. Later, they go swimming in a small lake because the weather is hot and sunny. The water is cool and refreshing.

In the evening, Omar feels tired after a long and busy day. He goes back home, eats dinner with his family, and talks about his day. Then, they sit together and watch a movie. Omar feels happy and relaxed because he spends time with his family and enjoys his hobbies.
