

Good Food for a Happy Body

Name:

Date:

Teacher: Lic. Soledad Chuquiana Grade: 4th

Instructions: Read the text and choose the answers.

To grow big and strong, our bodies need the right kind of fuel. Just like a car needs gas to move, we need food to play, learn, and sleep. Some foods help us a lot, while others are just for treats.

Healthy Foods: The "Go" Foods

Healthy foods are like superheroes for your body. They give you steady energy so you can run fast and think clearly. These foods have vitamins and minerals, which are tiny helpers that keep your heart, brain, and bones healthy.

Fruits and Vegetables: These come in every color of the rainbow! Crunchy carrots help your eyes, and sweet oranges keep you from getting sick.

Protein: Foods like chicken, fish, beans, and eggs help your muscles grow big.

Grains: Brown bread, rice, and oatmeal give you "long-lasting" energy so you don't get tired at school.

Dairy: Milk and yogurt have calcium, which makes your teeth and bones as hard as rocks.

Unhealthy Foods: The "Slow" Foods

Some foods taste very yummy, but they don't have many vitamins. These are often called unhealthy or "sometimes" foods. They usually have a lot of sugar, salt, or oil.

Too Much Sugar: Candy, soda, and cake give you a "sugar rush." You feel fast for a minute, but then you feel very tired and grumpy.

Fast Food: Fries and burgers can be greasy. Eating too many of them can make your heart work too hard and make you feel sleepy.

The Golden Rule: It is okay to have a treat sometimes, like a cupcake at a birthday party. But to be a champion, most of your meals should be filled with colorful, healthy food!

MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS:

A. Choose the best answer for each question.

1. What do vitamins and minerals do for your body?

- A) They make you feel sleepy.
- B) They are tiny helpers that keep your heart and bones healthy.
- C) They make food taste like chocolate.

2. Which food helps your muscles grow big and strong?

- A) Candy
- B) Soda
- C) Chicken and eggs

3. What happens after you get a "sugar rush" from eating too much candy?

- A) You feel very tired and grumpy.
- B) You become a superhero.
- C) You grow taller instantly.

4. Which is described as a "Slow" food because it can be greasy?

- A) Milk and yogurt
- B) Fries and burgers
- C) Carrots and oranges

B. Write "True" if the sentence is right, or "False" if it is wrong.

1. ____ Grains like oatmeal and rice give you "long-lasting" energy.
2. ____ Crunchy carrots are good for your fingers.
3. ____ Most of your meals should be filled with colorful, healthy food.

C. Draw a line to match the food to its "Superpower."

a.- Sweet oranges keep you from b.- Most of your meals should be c.- Unhealthy food usually have a lot of

1.- Filled with colors

2.- Sugar, salt or oil.

3.- Getting sick

